RULES.

1.—That the Society shall be called the Record Society, and shall have for its object the transcribing and publishing of Original Documents relating to the counties of Lancaster and Chester.

2.—That the affairs of the Society shall be governed by a Council, consisting of a President and twelve Members, the former of whom shall be annually elected by the Council.

3.—That three Members of the Council shall form a quorum.

4.—That the subscription of Members of the Society shall be £1. 1s. per annum, which shall entitle them to the publications for the year; but any Member whose subscription shall be two years in arrear shall thereupon be removed from the Society, and shall not be re-admitted until all arrears have been paid. The number of Members is limited to 350.

5.—That the subscriptions shall be due on the 30th of June in each year, and that no work shall be issued to any Member whose subscription is in arrear.

6.—That an Annual Meeting of the Society shall be held in the month of July, of which due notice shall be sent to all the Members. At this meeting a Report of the work of the Society, with a Statement of the Income and Expenditure, shall be presented. These shall be annually published, together with a List of Members and the Rules of the Society.

7.—That so long as the funds of the Society permit, two volumes at least shall be issued to the Members in each year.

8.—That no copies of the publications of the Society shall be sold to non-members, except at an increased price to be fixed by the Council.

9.—That no payment shall be made to any person for editing any work for the Society, but that the Editor of each volume shall be entitled to twenty copies of the work so edited by him.

10.—That the Treasurer's accounts shall be audited by two Members of the Society, who shall be elected at the Annual Meeting.

11.—No alteration shall be made in any of the above Rules except at the Annual General Meeting. Notice of any proposed alterations must be sent to the Secretary a month before such General Meeting.

12.—That a Meeting of the Council of the Society shall be called by the Secretary at least once in every three months.

The Annual Subscription of £1. 1s., entitling the Members to all the Volumes issued for that year, may be paid to the Hon. Treasurer, or to the credit of the Society at their Bankers, the Manchester and Liverpool District Banking Company, Limited at any of their branches.

Report for the Year 1882-83.

Read at the Annual Meeting, Dec. 6, 1883.

(Adjourned from July, owing to the illness and subsequent death of Mr. James Crossley, the late President of the Society.)

During the past year the Society has sustained a severe loss by the death of its first President, Mr. James Crossley, who took a great interest in the work of the Society from its commencement. Mr. Crossley's merits were too well known to the members to render any detailed notice of him here necessary. The Council have elected as his successor the Worshipful R. C. Christie, M.A., Chancellor of the Diocese of Manchester.

Since the last Annual General Meeting two volumes have been issued to the members. The first of these, Volume VII. of the Society's series, is Part I. of "Lancashire and Cheshire Records, preserved in the Public Record Office, London," edited by Mr. Walford D. Selby, who has the charge of the Search Room there. In this, and the following volume, Mr. Selby has dealt in a very able manner with the various classes of records relating to Lancashire and Cheshire, now preserved in the Public Record Office. By a useful system of classification he has so arranged his materials that any person anxious to know the special character of any class of records, relating to either of these two counties, can now ascertain it at once, and can also judge from the examples given whether such records would be likely to yield good results in any investigation in which he might be engaged. The contents of this volume are divided into four great groups: (1) Records of the Duchy of Lancaster; (2) Records of the Palatinate of Lancaster; (3) Records of the Palatinate of Chester; (4) Records of the Superior and Abolished Courts. These are subdivided again and again so as to render the contents of each group as accessible as possible to the student. It is difficult to give any special instances of the valuable information to be found in this volume, but it may be noted that on the "Ministers' Accounts" as they are called, being the accounts of the king's bailiffs, reeves, &c., are to be found much valuable information relating to the various Chantry chapels in the Lancashire and Cheshire churches, together with returns of the lands formerly belonging to the various Abbeys and Monasteries in the two counties. Then there are the returns of the "Church Goods" and the "Certificates of all the Colledges and Chauntryes," full of useful material for local and county history. Full details are also given of the Inquisitions post mortem, the Subsidy Rolls, Recusant Rolls, Returns of Papists' Estates, Papers relating to Forfeited Estates (those of Papists and of those who took part in the Jacobite insurrections), &c., all of which abound in information of great local and genealogical value.

Volume VIII. of the Society's publications is the second and concluding part of Mr. Selby's "Lancashire and Cheshire Records, preserved in the Public Record Office, London." This volume has chiefly reference to the "Calendars and Indexes," which are now to be found in the Record Office. Most of the Record Keepers in days gone by, when the indexing was not undertaken by the Government, made private indexes for their own use and to facilitate searches in the records in their custody, for which searches they received fees. Some of these indexes are of great value, and those which throw light on Lancashire and Cheshire matters are duly pointed out. After many years the labours of the industrious Benjamin Ayloffe receive due acknowledgment, and the value of the indexes he compiled during the thirty years he was a Record Keeper, are shown by many examples. Mr. Selby also prints lists of the clergy presented to the chief Lancashire and Cheshire churches from about 1535 to 1660, taken from what are known as "The First Fruits Composition Books," which give the names of those who paid a composition for the "first fruits" of their benefices, to the Exchequer, generally within six or eight months after being inducted to them. "The Royalist Composition Papers" (with their full indexes of the names of persons and places in the two counties) abound in information relating to the period of the civil war, whilst the Patent Rolls, to the contents of which "Palmer's Indexes" are so useful, from the time of Henry VIII. to Charles II., relate to the royal grants of lands, &c. At the end of this volume are two very full indexes of the persons and places named in this and the previous volume, the completeness of which may be imagined when it is stated that they occupy eighty-five closely-printed pages. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Selby for the great care and skill he has shown in these two volumes, and the Council cannot but congratulate the members upon the fact that such a work has been voluntarily undertaken for this Society by one who is not only so thoroughly competent, but who has also shown himself to be so well acquainted with the records placed under his charge. These two volumes will be found of the greatest possible use to all who are interested in the past history of the two counties, and the Council think it only right to point out that, whilst nothing of the kind has ever been attempted for any other county, there are signs that the example set by this Society will shortly be followed elsewhere.

As Volume VIII. contains over 400 pages, it was decided by the Council that it should form the only volume for the year 1882–3. The publications of the Society are now brought up to date, eight volumes having been issued in the five years of the Society's existence, as follows: —

1878–9.	I. Commonwealth Church Survey. II. Index to Wills at Chester, 1545 to 1620.
1879–80.	III. Lancashire Inquisitions. Stuart Period. Part I.
1880–81.	IV. Index to Wills at Chester, 1621 to 1650. V. Register of Prestbury, co. Chester. 1560 to 1636.
1881–2.	VI. Cheshire and Lancashire Funeral Certificates, 1600–1678. VII. Lancashire and Cheshire Records. Part I.
1882–3.	VIII. Lancashire and Cheshire Records. Part II.

Volume IX., the Preston Guild Rolls, edited by Mr. W. A. Abram of Blackburn, will form the first volume for the year 1883–4. It is now nearly ready for binding, and will be issued to the members very shortly. This volume contains verbatim transcripts of the Guild Rolls of Preston, commencing with the earliest now preserved, that of 1397, and coming down to 1682. The Rolls subsequent to this period may form a future volume of the Society's series. On these Rolls the names of those who were admitted at the Guild Merchant held at Preston every twenty years are recorded, and in most cases the sons then living of those so admitted are also entered there. To take a single example out of many hundred similar ones—"Thomas Hesketh of North Meols, Esq., sworn, William Hesketh his son, Robert Hesketh brother of the latter, Hugh Hesketh his brother, Edmund Hesketh his brother, John Hesketh his brother, and Richard Hesketh his brother." This is from the Roll for 1642.

Volume X. will contain a series of Miscellaneous Records, consisting, inter alia, of the following :—

(1) An early Homage Roll of the Manor of Warrington, co. Lancaster. Edited by Mr. W. Beamont.

(2) Annales Cestrienses, or "The Chronicles of St. Werburgh," a Latin Chronicle, commencing A.D. 594, and coming down to 1295, believed to have been written by Simon, Abbot of St. Werburgh, Chester, who died in that year. This was transcribed from the original in the Harl. MS. by the late Canon Raines, and will be edited by Mr. J. P. Earwaker.

(3) Lists of Lancashire Clergy, in the years 1619, 1621, 1624, 1634, 1635, 1636, and 1639. These lists were made by Dr. John Bridgeman, Bishop of Chester, in his private Ledger, now in the possession of his descendant, the Earl of Bradford. They will be edited by the Hon. and Rev. Canon Bridgeman, rector of Wigan.

(4) Lists of the gentry of Lancashire and Chester, who refused to accept the order of Knighthood at the Coronation of Charles I., with illustrative Documents.

(5) The Subsidy Roll for Salford Hundred, co. Lancaster, 1541.

(6) The Subsidy Roll for Salford Hundred, co. Lancaster, 1622.

(7) The Subsidy Roll for Leyland Hundred, co. Lancaster, together with a Recusant Roll for the same Hundred, 1628.

(8) A List of the Freeholders in Lancashire in 1600, arranged under Hundreds.

(9) List of Justices of the Peace for Cheshire in 1601 and 1620; and for Lancashire in 1682, &c., &c.

These latter documents, 4 to 9, will be edited by Mr. J. P. Earwaker.

These are mostly transcribed, and the volume will be placed in the printer's hands at an early date.

Volume XI., the first for the year 1884–5, will be the Index to the North Lancashire Wills, proved at Richmond, co. York, announced in previous Reports. It will contain the list of these wills down to the year 1690, and will be edited by Lieut.-Col. Fishwick, F.S.A. By the kind permission of Sir James Hannen, President of the Probate Division of Her Majesty's High Court of Justice, the Indexes now at Somerset House for the Deaneries of Amounderness, Furness, Lonsdale, and Kendal (as far as relates to Lancashire) have been transcribed, and the MS. is now arranged and can be sent to the press whenever required. This volume will be followed in due course by another, which will bring down the list of wills to the year 1748.

In addition to the above, Mr. J. A. C. Vincent has in hand a very elaborate Report on the Lancashire Subsidy Rolls which it is expected will be ready for the press very shortly.

The Council venture to hope that the first volume of the Marriage Licences at Chester, 1606 to 1615, may shortly be taken in hand. It will form a volume of very great interest to all genealogists.

It has also been suggested to the Council that a volume containing a full account of the various MSS. relating to Lancashire and Cheshire, contained in the various public libraries in the two counties, with an analysis of the contents of each volume, would be a very suitable publication for the Society to undertake. This would include and be an Index to the 45 folio volumes of the Raines MSS., now in the Chetham Library, the Piccope, Palmer, Barritt, and other local MSS. there, as well as those in the Free Libraries of Manchester, Liverpool, Salford, Warrington, Preston, Wigan, &c., many of which are full of very valuable local information, but owing to the want of indexes are but little known, and not nearly so frequently consulted as they might be.

The following works have also been suggested to the Council for publication :—

Institutions to Lancashire and Cheshire Churches from the Episcopal Registers at Lichfield and Chester.

List of Cheshire Inquisitiones post Mortem, with Calendars of Heirs.

Inquisitions of Proofs of Age, Liveries, and Grants of Wardship, Marriage, &c.

A Handy List of all the Lancashire Inquisitiones post Mortem, the Subsidy Rolls, and other Public Records.

The Chartulary of the Abbey of St. Werburgh at Chester.

Royalist Composition Papers relating to Lancashire and Cheshire.

Abstracts of Wills from Chester and Richmond.

A continuation of the Index to the Wills at Chester from the year 1660.

Early Manorial Court Rolls relating to the two counties.

Local Parish Registers.

Although several new members have joined the Society, during the past year there have been several removals by death and in consequence of the non-payment of subscriptions, and the number of members is now below what the Council think it should be. By a resolution adopted at this meeting the number of members will in future be limited to 350, as in the case of many other similar Societies, and an attempt will be made to reach that number in the course of the current year, after which it will not be possible for new members to join except when there are vacancies. The Council trust that the present members will kindly use their influence with their friends to induce them to join the Society, as with a full list of 350 members the operations of the Society could be much extended.

☞ The Council desire to direct attention to Rule 5, which enacts that no volume shall be delivered to any member whose subscription is in arrear.

The Balance-sheet, showing the receipts and expenditure of the Society for the current year, is given on the next page.

INTRODUCTION.

WHEN the Record Society for Lancashire and Cheshire was established a few years since, and the question came to be considered what Manuscript Records relating to the two Counties were available for the Society to print, I offered the suggestion that the Rolls of the Guild Merchant of Preston, in the possession of the Corporation of that ancient Borough, would be desirable materials for publication in one or more of the volumes to be issued by the Society. These Rolls had not previously been printed in any form; and whilst the earliest of them are interesting on account of their antiquity, helping to illustrate primitive civic life in a Lancashire town, which enjoyed peculiar privileges by virtue of numerous Royal Charters, they have a more substantial utility in one special department of County History, which the founders of the Record Society designed to assist—that of the Genealogy of local Families. There was no ground for supposing that the Municipal authorities of Preston would themselves undertake the printing of the Guild Rolls; and, if the work were to be done at all, it was of consequence that it should not be delayed too long, for the oldest Rolls have already suffered much from the effects of time and use, and they might (if nothing worse happened to them) in another generation or so become quite illegible. I ascertained that permission to copy the Rolls for the purpose of printing was likely to be accorded to a trustworthy editor, working on behalf of a Society of county antiquaries, and I proposed to undertake the task of transcription should the suggestion to print the Guild Rolls meet with favour. The Council approved of the proposition, and in the first Report of the Society the Preston Guild Rolls were announced as the subject-matter of an early volume of the Society. The promise has been repeated more definitely in later reports, and in the volume now before the Members of the Society it has been fulfilled.

It was during the summer of the Guild Year of 1882 that I was engaged in copying, at the Guild Hall in Preston, so many of the Guild Rolls as appear in the present volume, having received the requisite authorisation from the Worshipful Guild Mayor, EDMUND BIRLEY, Esquire, and having had the freest access to these and other illustrative Records of Preston afforded to me by the Town and Guild Clerk, Mr. HAMER. Had it been possible, there would have been a certain opportuneness in issuing this printed edition of the Guild Rolls down to 1682, at the date of another Guild celebration in 1882; but the careful revisal of the copy, the preparation of full Indices of Names and of Places, and the superintendence of the process of printing, have consumed a good many months of the Editor's spare time, so that another year has expired before the last pages have been put through the press. Yet I venture to hope that the members of the Society, should they find the book of service for the purposes I have indicated, will be good enough to condone the occurrence of some short delay in its issue to them.

To furnish anything like an historical account of the institution called the Preston Guild Merchant and the succession of its celebrations is no part of the purpose of these introductory pages to a printed volume of the Guild Rolls. That has been done already, in fragments or as a whole, by several hands, the present writer amongst the number; and I may, perhaps, be permitted to refer the reader who does not possess and desires detailed information on the subject, to my own Memorials of the Preston Guilds,[1] published in the Guild Week of 1882, which is the latest and fullest of

[1] "Memorials of the Preston Guilds, illustrating the Manner in which the Guild Merchant has been held in the Borough from the earliest on record until the last Guild in 1862, &c. With full Abstracts of all the Royal Charters granted to Preston. By W. A. ABRAM. Preston: Toulmin. 1882."

the published Guild Histories. The Preston Charters, too, have been edited and translated by the late Dr. Lingard the Historian, and I shall not require to make here more than casual reference to them. The Rolls, however, may be properly introduced by a slight statement with respect to vestiges of the primitive existence of the Guild Merchant at Preston, before the date of the oldest Guild Roll preserved: by a few observations upon the practical uses and prescriptive usages and customs of the Guild Merchant; by a description of the appearance and contents of each of the Guild Rolls from 1397 to 1682 printed in this volume; and by a suggestion or two as to the manner in which the materials supplied by the Rolls can be turned to account in the construction of pedigrees and in minor genealogical elucidations.

The foundation of the Municipality of Preston is officially dated from the reception of the Charter granted by Henry II., which, though bearing no regnal year, has internal evidence that it must have been granted about the 26th Henry II. and A.D. 1179. On the 9th of November last (1883), the retiring Mayor of Preston handed to his successor the small silver-headed wand, saying: "I have now to deliver to you this staff of office for the 704th year." Seven hundred and four years from 1883 take us back to 1179; thus the authorities of Preston have fixed A.D. 1179 as the beginning of their history as a chartered community. The assumption is a safe one; yet it is a singular circumstance that one of the most learned personages who ever held office in Preston, and who lived three centuries ago and more, when many civic records now lost were in being,—Sir Thomas Walmesley, Knt., Justice of the Common Pleas, and sometime Recorder of Preston, to wit,—positively asserted, and set the statement down in writing as his official certificate, that he had seen a charter older by nearly eighty years than this of Henry II., one granted to Preston by Henry I., in the first year of his reign (A.D. 1100). I cannot understand how a legal dignitary, so accustomed to the caligraphy of old deeds and documents as Justice Walmesley must have been, could have misread the oldest Preston Charter which he had seen, so as to mistake a date-less grant by Henry II. for a dated one by Henry I. On the other hand, had this supposed charter of the first Henry been itself preserved amongst the Corporation muniments in 1611, when Sir Thomas Walmesley wrote his certificate, there would have been little necessity for such a writing. The charter would have borne its own witness. The point is obscure, and likely to remain so; but I will append, as a document of some curiosity, this certificate by the eminent Judge and learned Recorder, the original of which is amongst the town's Records.

"Whereas before this tyme I Sr Thomas Walmisley Knighte one of the Kinges Ma'ties Justices of the Comon Pleas att Westm'r have been requested and desired by the Maior Bailiffes and Burgesses of the Burroughe and Towne of Preston in Amoundernes in the Countie of Lancaster to declare and signifie unto all manner of p'son and p'sons to whome yt shall or maie concerne or app'tene the Antiquitie of the grauntes and Charters heretofore made and graunted to the said Burgesses of the said Towne of Preston by the Kinges and princes of this Realme of England. Yee shall therefore understand that vpon p'vsall and vewe of diuers and sundrie of the Ancyente Charters and l'res patentes heretofore made and graunted to the said Burgesses of Preston aforesaid, I find one made by Henrie the firste Kinge of this Realme of England and in the firste yeare of his Raigne Whereby it is graunted (amongest other thinges) that the said Burgesses of the said Towne of Preston are and shall be freed of and from the payinge of anie manner of Towle or Stallage within anie faire or markett within this said Realme of England where the Charters or grauntes of other Townes and places are not of more auncyente or greater or former antiquitie then the said firste yeare of the said King Henrie the firste. And in wytnes of the premisses I the said Sr Thomas Walmisley Knighte have hereunto put my seale and subscribed my Name the two and twenteth daie of November in the neenthe yeare of the Raigne of our soveraigne Lord James by the grace of God of England ffrance and Ireland Kinge defender of the faith &c., and of Scotland the ffyve and fforteth "1611.

"Tho: Walmysley."

Taking the later period, which is sure, of the acquisition of special privileges by the townsmen of Preston under the Charter of Henry II., there is an interval (1179 to 1397) of 218 years between the enfranchisement of the Burgesses and the date of the first Roll of Guild Burgesses extant. Now the liberties granted by Henry II. were specified to be the same as those conferred by him upon the Burgesses of Newcastle-under-Lyne, and they included a grant that they should have "a Guild Merchant in the said Borough, with all liberties and free customs to such Guild Merchant in any wise belonging." Did the men of Preston at once proceed to exercise the privilege, and to institute the holding of their periodical Guild Merchant? We do not know; the history of the town for several generations onward is almost a blank. At length we come to the year 1328, and learn something definite. King Edward III. granted a new Charter to the Burgesses in that year. Dr. Richard Kuerden, a local antiquary, living in the second half of the seventeenth century, in one of the many MSS. he left, has placed on record that "In 2nd of K. Edward 3d there is mention made of a grand or Gild Court, holden at Preston, in Amoundernes, before Aubert the son of Robert, Maior, and William the son of Paulin and Roger of the Wich, Balives of the same Towne; on Monday after the Feast of the Nativity of St. John Baptist, the yeare reigning of K. Edward 3d after the Conquest the 2d, and at that said Gild divers Orders confirmed that had been made at a precedent Gild." Here, be it noted, is allusion to a "precedent Guild"; so this was not the first, if it were not more than the second occasion of holding a Guild Merchant. Another MS. of Kuerden's found in the Heralds' College purports to be a copy of the Orders of this Guild of the 2nd Edward III. This MS. has been printed more than once. Included in the Orders are some described as of a "precedent Guild."

Was there another Guild Merchant between the date of the above (A.D. 1328) and that of 1397, of which we have the official Roll? That is another uncertain matter. I find no trace of any. Yet it had been ordained in 1328 that the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses or their successors might "sett a Gyld Marchant at every xx yere end if they have nede to conferme charters," &c. The order was not imperative but conditional; the Guild Merchant was to be held if deemed needful "to conferme," or make secure by putting into operative force, the provisions of fresh charters. From the 2nd Edward III. (1328) no charter was granted until early in the next reign, the second of Richard II., A.D. 1379; and it is therefore probable no Guild Merchant was held prior to that year. It is just possible there may have been one about the time of Richard's accession, or of his charter; that would leave a space of nearly twenty years until the next Guild Merchant, held, as we know, in the 20th Richard II. But the absence of any retrospective reference on the Rolls of the last-mentioned Guild, or of any subsequent Guild, to a Guild in the beginning of the reign of King Richard II. is significant.

The periodical concourse to which the name of Guild Merchant was given had these practical uses:—First, it was the occasion for re-collecting the scattered constituents of the corporate body, and of separating those which had been wholly alienated from those which were but temporarily detached by social accident. For the old Roll of Burgesses, standing as it was made at the former Guild, was now substituted a new Guild Roll, purged of all names of Freemen of the last Guild who, in the interval, had died, or had permanently departed from the town, or who had forfeited their freedom by breach of the statutes. Secondly, the holding of the Guild Merchant was the time for the admission and enrolment of the sons of Freemen born since the previous Guild, on their appearance in the Guild Court to claim their freedom, after taking the prescribed oath, and after payment of the customary fee. Sons who were yet infants were entered by their sires, and were sworn at a later date when they had come of age. Other additions to the Roll were made during the Guild meeting. There were some who had interim admission to provisional privileges by Copy of Court Roll;—these had now to be made Burgesses of the Guild in order to enter into their full rights as Freemen. Some, by having served terms of apprenticeship to Burgesses, had qualified themselves, after admission at the Guild, to become Freemen, and to ply the same crafts within the borough. Further, there were usually a number of new settlers in the town since the holding of the previous Guild, who sought to be admitted as In-Burgesses, and were admitted, if proposed by Burgesses of good standing, on the payment of substantial sums by way of fines. Lastly, a number of the neighbouring noblemen, knights, and landed gentry came and sought admission to the Guild as "Foreign Burgesses," and were seldom denied; and a few personages of distinction from distant parts, who attended the Guild to witness the ceremonial and the pageant, were honoured by free admission as Burgesses, on the nomination of the Guild Mayor. Thus the reconstruction of the Roll of Guild Burgesses was a primary object of the holding of a Guild; and an interval of twenty years was found long enough to render such revision of the Roll imperative.

Another important legal procedure of the Guild Merchant was the re-enactment, after amendment where deemed needful, of the Articles, Statutes, or Orders, as they were variously termed, of the Guild. These were the laws for the government of the town, which the Burgesses were sworn to observe and abide by, and were equivalent to the Bye-laws of a modern Municipality, or, as regards some portion of the Orders, to the Standing Orders which regulate the proceedings of a modern Town Council. At some Guilds, the Orders were ratified and continued with but trifling changes; whilst on other occasions the old laws were thoroughly overhauled, altered, amended, and amplified so as to make them more efficacious and applicable to changed and still changing circumstances of living and trading in the community; or, perchance, to bring them into accordance with the prescriptions and ordinances of a fresh Royal Charter, obtained since the former Guild. The mode of appointing Officers, too, was a matter dealt with in the framing of these Guild Orders, upon which controversy at times arose, and much thought and pains were expended by the Guild Mayor and Stewards, the Aldermen and Guild Clerk, advised by the Recorder, in the adoption of new statutes demanded for the checking of some abuse or the counteraction of the spirit of exclusiveness which would ever and anon show itself in high quarters.

The subjoined statements, copied from a MS. written in the year 1741, probably by the then Town Clerk of Preston, Mr. Henry Smith, will convey to the reader who is not acquainted with the peculiar constitution of the ancient Corporation of Preston an accurate view of its distinctive features. The first sets forth that—

"The Burrough of Preston is a Burrough by prescription, and is incorporated by the name of the Mayor, Bayliffs, and Burgesses of the Burrough of Preston in the County of Lancaster. The Executive part of the Body Corporate consists of a Mayor, Seven Aldermen, and seventeen Common Council-Men, which make in all twenty-five, and are called the Capital Burgesses or Common Council of the Burrough. There is and time out of mind hath been a Guild Merchant held every Twenty Years, in and for this Burrough. The Freemen or Burgesses are of two sorts, viz., the Foreign Burgesses and the Inn-Burgesses. The Foreign Burgesses are admitted at the Guild Merchant and at no other time; and they are exempt from payment of Toll for Goods that they buy in the Burrough for the use of themselves and their family. And this is all the priviledge they have; for altho' they should be Inhabitants of the Burrough they have no right to vote in the Election of Members of Parliament, or to serve upon Juries for electing of the Mayor and Town's Bailiffe, or to be elected into any Office in the Corporation; nor was there ever an instance of any of them being admitted on any such occasion; nor have they (altho' Inhabitants) right of Common upon the Marsh or Moor.

"The Inn-Burgesses are such as have a right by Birth, or are made at the Guild-Merchant, or by order of the Common Council, or by the Mayor for the time being. Those that have a right by birth must be born the sons of Freemen, that is, their fathers must be Freemen at the time of their birth, and in that case they are entitled wherever born.

"Those admitted at the Guild Merchant are either admitted upon Fines or Gratis, of which there always were many of both kinds. Those admitted by order of Council are also admitted upon Fines or Gratis, of which there are many of both kinds as far back as there are Books and Records. The Mayor for the time being has a right to make three, and cannot by the ancient and constant usage of the Burrough make any more, unless they be some of the Nobility or other Persons of honour and distinction. These are the very words of the restriction. And Mr. Lawrence Wall being Mayor in 1723, and having made considerably more than he had a right to do, and persons that were not within the exception or restriction, an Order of Council was made on the 18th of December, 1724, declaring and asserting the ancient usage, and that the Mayor can make no more than three, unless Persons Noble or of Honour and Distinction, and it has been since adhered to.

"It is to be observed that every Burgess, be he Foreign or Inn-Burgess, and in whatever manner admitted, must at every Guild pay a Fine or Fee of Seven-pence, or he forfeits and loses the benefit of his Freedom. And an exact Book is made at each Guild of the persons that pay their Fee or Fine, and the names of those admitted at the Guild either on Fines or Gratis are entered along with the old ones in alphabetical order. And those admitted betwixt the Guilds, either by the Council or by the Mayor, come in at the Guild and pay the usual Fine or Fee of Seven-pence, and are entered with the others, and from that time they all become Guild Burgesses. But until the Guild those admitted by the Council or by the Mayor are called Inn-Burgesses by Copy of Court Roll. It is also to be observed that whenever any man is admitted by the Council upon a Fine paid down, he must by the Custom pay to the Corporation the same Fine over again at the next Guild."

The other document of the same date is an account of the usage and custom of the Borough with respect to the admission of Burgesses :—

"The Custome of the Burrough of Preston in the County of Lancaster touching the Admission and Entering of Free Inn-Burgesses and Foreign Burgesses of the said Burrough.

"It is hereby declared that by the Ancient Usage and Custome of this Burrough the Mayor of the said Burrough for the time being has a right during his Mayoralty to Admitt by Court Roll any person or persons whatever, not exceeding three in the whole, to be Free Inn-Burgesses or Foreign Burgesses of the said Burrough.

"That the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council or Capital Burgesses of the said Burrough in Common Council assembled have a right to admitt any person or persons whatever to be Free Inn-Burgesses or Foreign Burgesses of the said Burrough, either Gratis or on such Fines as they think proper, and either generally or for themselves only, as the said Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council think proper.

"That the Mayor and Stewards of the Guild Merchant of the said Burrough for the time being, or the major part of them, have a right during the Guild to admitt any person or persons whatever to be Free Inn-Burgesses or Foreign Burgesses of the said Burrough, either Gratis or on such Fines as they think proper, and either generally, or for themselves only, as the said Mayor and Stewards or the major part of them think proper.

"That every person admitted as a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess of the said Burrough by Court Roll betwixt the Guilds is entitled to be entered as a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess (according to his admission by Court Roll) of the Guild next after such his admission by Court Roll, paying at such next Guild to the Mayor and Stewards of the same, at the place of holding thereof, for the use of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the said Burrough, the same Fine that he paid on his Admission by Court Roll. And if he was admitted by Court Roll gratis without any Fine, he is entitled to be entered as a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess (according to his admission by Court Roll) on payment of Seven-pence to the Mayor and Stewards of such Guild, at the place of holding the same, for the use of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the said Burrough.

"And that every person entered as a Free Inn-Burgess of the Guild Merchant of this Burrough is entitled, at the next succeeding Guild, to be again entered as such, either generally or for himself only, according to the former Entry, on payment of Seven-pence to the Mayor and Stewards of such succeeding Guild, at the place of holding the same, for the use of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the said Burrough.

"And that every Son of a Free Inn-Burgess of this Burrough, whose Father was a Free Inn-Burgess of the Guild next preceding the birth of such Son (except of such Free Inn-Burgesses who are admitted for themselves only) is entitled to be entered as a Free Inn-Burgess of the Guild next after his birth on payment of Seven-pence to the Mayor and Stewards of such Guild, at the place of holding the same, for the use of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the said Burrough. And that when a Free Inn-Burgess is admitted for himself only, none of his Sons are entitled to be or to be entered either as Free Inn-Burgesses or Foreign Burgesses of the said Burrough.

"And that every person entered as a Foreign Burgess of the Guild Merchant of this Burrough is entitled at the next succeeding Guild to be again entered as such either generally or for himself only according to the former entry on payment of Seven-pence to the Mayor and Stewards of such succeeding Guild, at the place of holding the same, for the use of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the said Burrough. And that every Son of a Foreign Burgess whose Father was a Foreign Burgess of the Guild next preceding the birth of such Son (except of such Foreign Burgesses as are admitted for themselves only) is entitled to be entered as a Foreign Burgess of the Guild next after his birth, on payment of Seven-pence to the Mayor and Stewards of such Guild, &c. And that when a Foreign Burgess is admitted for himself only, none of his Sons are entitled to be or to be entered either as Foreign Burgesses or free Inn-Burgesses of the said Burrough.

"And that no Son of any Person admitted by Court Roll is entitled to be or to be entered as a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess of the said Burrough unless his Father after such admission by Court Roll is become a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess of the Guild next preceding the birth of such Son.

"And that every person who is entitled to be or to be entered as a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess of the said Burrough, and neglects to appear by himself or proxy at any Guild in order to be entered as aforesaid, or refuses or neglects to pay to the Mayor and Stewards for the time being what is hereinbefore mentioned to be done and usually paid, forfeits and loses all his right and title to his being a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess and to his being entered as such. And the sons of every such person that are born after such neglect or omission are not entitled to be or to be entered as free Inn-Burgesses or Foreign Burgesses of the said Burrough.

"And that no person whatsoever by birth save as aforesaid, or by Apprenticeship or service, has or gains any right to be or to be entered as a Free Inn-Burgess or Foreign Burgess either at the Guild or by Court Roll."

I now proceed to describe shortly the portion of the Municipal Records of Preston which is contained in the present volume. The Roll of the Guild Merchant of 1397 (the first printed in this volume) is inscribed upon an oblong parchment, and is in fair state considering its age, but a small portion of the parchment is torn off at the right hand bottom corner, by which several names have disappeared, and in the folds of the Roll are cracks and abrasions which have caused the obliteration of other names. The ink of the writing has faded, and the many contractions of the Latin text, combined with the peculiar forms of the letters and the antiquated orthography of proper names, render the reading of it a task of no small difficulty, so that I cannot give an assurance that every name and word has been correctly copied. The heading is in the same small caligraphy as the rest of the record, and without ornamental scroll-work; and the formula in Latin, repeated with slight variations in the later Rolls, is to the purport that "a Guild Merchant of Burgesses of the Town of Preston in Amondernes, [was] held there the Monday next after the Feast of the Ascension of the Lord, the 20th year of the reign of King Richard the Second after the Conquest of England, by William de Ergham, then Mayor of the said Guild; and by Geoffrey de Meles, Thomas de More, John de Haconshowe, Seneschals or Stewards of the said Guild; Richard Blundell, Henry le Sumnor, Symon de Preston, John le Marisshall, Richard de Bretherton, William de Gany, John de Alston, William de Walton, merchant, William Grymbald, and John Lambard, then Clerk of the said Guild, which persons had paid for their fees and fines as appeared below, and were Aldermen of the said Guild, and received as is underwritten on the right side of this Guild [Roll] for their fines as is shewn." The names of the Guild Burgesses are arranged in three columns under the heading; first, the In-Burgesses, introduced with the line (translated): "These are the names of those who are in the forenamed Guild, and of those whose fathers were in the forenamed Guild." This list contains names of a number of Burgesses described as sons of Burgesses not separately entered, and who were probably therefore then defunct, but only some seventeen instances of Burgesses living who had a son or sons enrolled along with them at this Guild. All the other entries are of single names of Burgesses admitted on the claim of inheritance. A short list of "Burgenses ffforinseci" (Foreign Burgesses), heads the second column. Amongst them are three knights of the family of Hoghton of the Tower (an ancient neighbouring house, honourably represented at every Guild Merchant of Preston from 1397 to the last in 1882), viz., Sir Richard de Hoghton, Sir William de Hoghton and his son Edward, and Sir Henry de Hoghton. The Banastres, lords of Walton-in-le-Dale, entered ten members, Richard Banastre, son of John, and eight sons; and John Banastre, son of Henry. The Ethelestons or Elstons of Elston sent one Burgess, Roger de Etheleston. The Butlers of Rawcliffe, Sir John Botiler, and four sons; and Richard Botiler, son of Sir Nicholas. The Bartons of Barton, Thomas de Barton. Below is a second category of In-Burgesses, those admitted first at this Guild, and at the top of the third column begins another list of "the names of those of whom the fathers were not in the forenamed Guild, and they made fines." The first of these is the Guild Mayor himself:—"Will' de Ergh'm pp^{l} Symon' de Preston et Joh' de Haconshowe, xl^{s}." The contraction "pp^{l}" which rather looks like "pp^{r}" on the Roll, Mr. Earwaker, our Society's accomplished Secretary, supposes to stand for the words "per plegium," indicating that the two Burgesses of standing named after the person admitted gave their pledge or surety for the good character and loyalty of the newly-accepted freeman. The fines paid for admission to the privileges of an In-Burgess in 1397 varied from three, four, and five shillings, and one mark, to forty shillings, which would be perhaps equal to a fine of nearly as many pounds in present money. Over a hundred recent settlers in the town took up their freedom thus by purchase at the Guild under notice. On the back of the parchment are written a number of names of persons apparently not counted as Guild Burgesses. The first eighteen are female Christian names; one of these is described as "wife" of a Burgess; eleven others as "widows" of former Burgesses; three as "daughters" of Burgesses; and three stand simply in their own names, being, I imagine, ladies of repute: "Elena de More," "Alicia de Lee," and "Cecilia Roos." This is the only instance in which members of the gentle sex figure upon the Guild Rolls of Preston. I do not think they ranked as Burgesses in 1397; and the following extract from the Ordinances of the Guild of 1562 may serve to indicate the recognised status, in relation to the civic body, of widows of Burgesses deceased: "Whereas it apperithe by auncyent Recordes that Widowes heretofore beyng late wiffes of burgesses have after the death of their husbandes come in and done their duties accordyngly as their husbandes in their liff tyme did, and that some other like Widowes have been suffred to have like lib'tie contrarye to the welfare of this Town; it is y^n ordered, constitute[d] and stablisshed by the said Mayor, Balives and Aldermen of this Gild for ever, for the proffitt of all the burgess of the said Town, that all and any Widowes hereafter beyng late Burgesses Wiffes of this Gild or that hereafter shall be made by Gild Merchant or by Court Roole shall have and enjoy such liberties and freedomes during their Widowheade as their husbandes in liff tyme had and enjoyed by reason of their burgesshippe."

In the text I have not printed the Guild Orders and Statutes which in the earlier Rolls are written upon the back of the parchment, and in the later ones follow on to the Roll of Guild Burgesses in the Manuscript Book of the Guild. The later Orders are so extended that they would have occupied very nearly as much space in type as the names of the Burgesses, and have filled the book with matter of no great interest historically, and of no use whatever to genealogists; to the exclusion of at least two of the longest Burgess Rolls we have embraced in this volume. These Orders have been partially printed elsewhere, and, for the rest, are largely repetitions of former Guild Orders confirmed and continued. As an example of the wording of the ancient Statutes of the town, however, I print in their Latin text the Articles of the Guild of 1397 as endorsed upon the Roll. They were these:—

"Isti Artic'l' subscr'pt' ordinat' 7 statut' fuerunt ad istam Gildam ten't' loco die 7 anno infra script' p' consensū WILL' DE ERGHAM tunc Maiorem istius Gilde 7 p^r senescall' 7 Alderman' istius Gilde sicut seriater post p'd'm Maiorem infra scr'pt' videlicet quod si aliquis burgensis ville de Preston faciat aliquam forisfacturam erga libertates ville p'd'ct' sive lib'as consuetudines eiusd'm ville et exinde convict' fuerit prodet libertatem eiusd'm ville ad voluntatem Maioris qui fuit p' temp' 7 illor' duodecim qui sibi ordinat' sunt p'd'ct' libert' 7 libris consuetud' ville p'dict' ad gubernand' Item q' nullus fiat Maior p'dict' ville de Preston donec prius fuit Baḧ' eiusd'm ville It'm si aliquis burgensis ville de Preston electus fuit p' consensū co'itatis ville p'd'ct' ad ministrand' in aliquo officio decent' stat'm suo 7 illud recusat p'd'ct' libertatem suam ad voluntatem co'itatis ville p'dict' It'm qū de ce'to nullus baḧ' ville de Preston reddet comp' su'm de cū d'no nisi p' rotulū burgag' ville p'd'ct' 7 burgensiū forinsecor' 7 p' p'quis Cur' eiusd'm ville 7 p' capita' illor qui sunt stallag sub pœne' forisfacte libertatis sue ad voluntatem Maioris 7 illor' duodec'm qui p' temp' p'd'ct' Maiori assignati 7 ordinati sunt It'm q' quilibet Baḧ' ville de Preston reddat comp' sūm modo p'scr'pt' ante electionem Maioris 7 sub pœne forisfact' libert' sue ad voluntat' Maioris 7 illorum duodec'm qui sibi p' temp' assignati electi 7 ordinati erunt Isti artic'li p'scp't' stat fuer'nt in p'dict' Cur' coram Ric'o de Hoghton 7 tota' co'itate ib'm existent' quo quid'm co'itat' pr'd'ct' articlis una voce consentunt.

The second Roll of our series is that of the Guild Merchant of the 3rd Henry V. (A.D. 1415). This Guild was held but eighteen years after the preceding one in 1397, a shorter interval than occurs between any other two Guilds on the record. The circumstance may, perhaps, be partly accounted for by the fact that the Burgesses had obtained two more charters since the last Guild, one in the 2nd Henry IV. (A.D. 1401), and the other in the 1st Henry V. (1414). A change of dynasty had been brought about. The House of Lancaster had possessed itself of the regal power. Two kings of that line, Henry IV. and Henry V., had given charters to the town, confirming the former ones, and especially granting that if the Burgesses or their predecessors "by some chance have not hitherto fully used any one or some of the aforesaid liberties, free customs and grants" contained in former charters, they might from that time use and enjoy all such liberties, customs, grants, &c. After the second of these charters had been secured in 1414, not long after the accession of Henry V., it might well seem politic to the townsmen to hold with speed a Guild Merchant for the public reassertion of their rights and for the legal re-composition of the Body of Burgesses. The Roll of this Guild, like that of 1397, is written upon an oblong piece of parchment, slightly frayed at the foot, but otherwise in good preservation. The text is tolerably legible, though the ink has faded to a pale brown. Under the heading, which crosses the skin, the names of Burgesses are ranged in three columns. The Guild is recited to have been held by Henry Johnson, Mayor of the Guild, upon the Monday in the Feast of Pentecost, in the third year of the reign of Henry V. after the Conquest (May 20th, 1415). Besides the Mayor, the officials of the Guild were three Stewards, thirteen Aldermen, and the Clerk of the Guild. The first list contains the names of those who were previously in the Guild and whose fathers were in the Guild. Of these there are about 188 names, several at the end of the list being partially obliterated. Most of the surnames are the same as appear upon the Roll of 1397. The second list consists of the names of those whose fathers were not in the Guild; who could not, therefore, enter the Guild by birthright, but were admitted on payment of various stipulated fines. The names of the Burgesses pledging for them are entered, generally two, but occasionally only one, to each new applicant. There are fifty-two of these fresh In-Burgesses. In several instances the fine was condoned for some consideration, probably for useful service rendered to the town, ex. gr.:—"Robertus Taillor de Preston condonat ei finem." Last comes a short list of "Foreign Burgesses," containing only twenty-one names (or twenty-four if we reckon the fathers of several Burgesses who are named and who had been Burgesses, if then deceased). Three knights, all contemporary, of the De Hoghton family appear, Sir Richard, Sir William, and Sir Henry, and three sons, Richard John, and Nicholas, of Sir Henry de Hoghton; also an Edward de Hoghton. The other Foreign Burgesses of 1415 were, Sir John de Southworth, Knt.; Sir James de Haryngton, Knt., and his three sons, Richard, Thomas, and Christopher; Sir John Butler (Botiler), Knt., and four sons, Nicholas, John, Richard, and George; Sir William Butler (Botiler), Knt., and his son and heir John; and of less eminent Foreign Burgesses, John de ffletewood and William his son; Richard de Baldirston, Gilbert de Barton, and Henry de Walton—all representatives of known local territorial families. Thus the class of Foreign Burgesses admitted was very select in 1415; whereas in later periods, towards the close of the seventeenth and in the beginning of the eighteenth centuries, what with the wholesale admissions of neighbouring gentry and others, seeking connection with Preston as a matter of honour or of social advantage, upon the Roll as Foreign Burgesses, and the promotion of many Out-Burgesses of long standing to the class of In-Burgesses with its larger privileges, the numbers of non-resident Burgesses of both categories at length, at several Guilds, greatly exceeded those of actual townsmen enrolled; and it became necessary to check the process of appropriation of these franchises by non-residents and strangers. There are no female names upon the Roll of 1415.

The Orders of this Guild, written upon the back of the parchment, besides rectifying and continuing the Orders of the last Guild, forbid the stallage of Strangers within the town, and impose the penalty of disfranchisement upon any Burgess concealing toll or custom due to the town.

The next Guild Roll bears date the 37th Henry VI. (A.D. 1459). Forty-four years had elapsed since the preceding Guild Merchant, assuming that none was held in the interval from 1415, as all incidental evidence tends to show. As an urban community, Preston had not been growing in those years, but had rather decayed. So we gather by the token that the Burgesses were fewer in number in 1459 than in 1415. The old Freemen, sons of Fathers who had been in the Guild, had dwindled down (including the Mayor, Robert de Hoghton, three Stewards, ten Aldermen, and the Clerk) to about ninety persons. The Foreign Burgesses come second on the Roll, and had slightly increased, being now forty-five persons. The families of note in the county represented in this list included Hoghton, Botiler, Haryngton, Molyneux, Balderston, Syngleton, Heydock, Banastre, Skillicorne, Sotheworth, Langton, Barton, ffarington, Hesketh. In the third column are enrolled the names of those entered now for the first time as Guild Burgesses on payment of fines. Of these ninety-three names appear, so that the body of In-Burgesses at this Guild was fully doubled numerically by the new admissions on the occasion. Doubtless these were, generally speaking, traders who had come to dwell in Preston years before, and, having acquired domicile in the town, and some liberties as citizens by Court Roll admission, awaited their complete franchises as Freemen of the Guild. The Roll resembles in appearance the two earlier Rolls which have been described, with this additional feature, that the common Seal of the Borough, impressed upon red wax, is pendant at the foot of the Roll. It bears the immemorial heraldic emblems of the Corporation of Preston, the Holy Lamb, flanked by the characters "ꝑ ꝑ" in old English, with this difference from the modern Corporate Seal of the Borough, that the Lamb is in the standing position, and the Cross forming the staff of the pennon is supported by the Lamb more nearly vertically than in the present Arms. The only portion of the legend surrounding the shield which is not broken off is the word "Sigillum."

The Guild Orders, endorsed upon the Roll, written in Latin, rehearse and continue the Orders of the last precedent Guilds in 1397 and 1415, and add a new Order respecting the buying and selling of beasts, horses, and sheep within the liberties of the town. And there is another Order, made by the Mayor and the Twelve, which is inscribed on the front of the Roll, at the end of the list of new Burgesses, which I have printed in the text of this volume, in these words:—

"Hit is ordent [ordained] be the Maire and the xij and be the assent of al the burges of the said Gilde that ne boucher ne Barker ne no other burges concele [or] delaye hide toll or any other tolles that longys [belongs] to the ffranchese of Preston on payn of forfature of his liberte."

Although the Guild Merchant of Preston was held between that of 1397 and that of 1542 at irregular, and, with one exception, at lengthened intervals, which has led some writers on the Guilds to infer that other celebrations took place within the period named, the record whereof had been lost, yet there is evidence that the Guilds whose dates we have specified or have yet to mention, were all that were convened in the fifteenth and first part of the sixteenth centuries. The proof is this:—The Orders of the Guild Merchant of 4th Eliz. (1562) recite in succession the substance of the articles enacted at preceding Guilds, commencing with the "Gild M'chaunt holden here before this tyme by Will'm de Ergham then Maior and other of the same Gild die lune p'x ante festem ascenc' Domini Anno Regis Ricardi secundi post Conquestum Anglie vicesimo" (i.e. 20th Richard II., and A.D. 1397). Following are rehearsed the Orders of the Guild Merchant holden before Henry Johnson, Mayor of the Guild, the "3rd year of the reign of King Henry the Fifth after the Conquest" (A.D. 1415); then of the Guild Merchant holden before Robert Hoghton, Mayor of the Guild, in "the 37 year of the reign of King Henry the Sixth after the Conquest" (A.D. 1459); and next of the Guild Merchant holden before William Marshall, Mayor of the Guild, in the "16th year of Henry the Seventh after the Conquest" (A.D. 1500). Had there been any other celebration of the Guild known to the framers of the Orders of 1562, it would also have been mentioned in this recital. Later, at the Guild of 1662, the preamble of the Statutes of that Guild recites the Orders of Guilds held in the 2nd Edward III. (1328), 20th Richard II., (1397), 3rd Henry V. (1415), 37th Henry VI. (1459), 16th Henry VII. (1500), 34th Henry VIII. (1542), &c.

It is unaccountable how the official Roll of the Guild Merchant of the 16th Henry VII. (A.D. 1500) should have perished or strayed, whilst those of three preceding Guilds have been safely kept. But there is no trace of it, and we are accordingly unable to complete the series from 1397 onward by printing the Guild Roll of this date. Was the local antiquary Richard Kuerden the culprit in the abstraction of this Roll? It is the fact that he had in his possession shortly before his death, about A.D. 1701, documents from the Corporation Archives of Preston, which the Council gave peremptory orders to recover, but the requisition may have been futile. Kuerden's MS. contains the only few particulars left us respecting the Guild of 1500, so I suspect he had at least seen the missing Roll. He writes:—"Item, Another Gild held within the town of Preston, upon Monday next after the Decolation of St. John Baptist, in the 16th yeare of King Hen: 7th, before W. Marshall, Maior; H. Preston, W. Ergham, Law: Houghton, Ri: Aynsworth, Stewards; W. Tipping, Law: Whaley, Ri: Tipping, W. Sadler, Ri: Arrowsmith, Tho: Alcock, Tho: Darell, Gilbert Arrowsmith, Willm: Bank, Tho: Wainwright, Aldermen; and Richard Walton, Clerk of the same Gild." The names of the In-Burgesses and Foreign Burgesses of this Guild are the missing link in the succession of Preston Freemen during five centuries; but the Orders of the Guild, endorsed doubtless upon the vanished Roll, are preserved by their rescription upon the back of the Roll of the Guild of 1562, as above noted. They appear as follows:—

"Item, where[as] at the Gild M'chaunte holden before Will'm M'shall then Maior and the Stewardes and Aldermen of the same Gild, the Monday next after the decolation of St. John Baptist in the year of the reign of Henry the Seventh after the conquest of England the 16th, amongst other thynges it was ordered and confirmed, that no Burges of the same Town which shuld be from thencforthe made by Court Roll shuld have no further or longer libertie or ffredom within the same Town or without by reason of his burgesshippe but until the Gild Merchaunte then next after to be holden and kept at Preston aforesaid. Item, that when the Gild Merchaunte shal be appoynted to be holden and kept here at any tyme or tymes hereafter by the Mayor and the Counsell of the said Town for the tyme beying for the welfare of the same Town, if any Burges that . . . . be made by Court Role be repugnant or contrarye to the same wilfully either openly or prevely and thereof be convicted either by his confession or two witnes, [he] shall stand and

Between 1459 and 1542 Preston had grown greatly in importance as a town and seat of chartered traders, and the Roll of Burgesses at the Guild Merchant of 1542 is a larger document than the older Rolls. The Guild Mayor was Thomas Typping, Gent., whose four sons, Robert, Richard, Evan, and Thomas, head the list of In-Burgesses. There were four Stewards of the Guild and twelve Aldermen. William Walton was Clerk of the Guild. The exact date of the opening of the Guild was May 24th, 1542 (34th Henry VIII.). The names of In-Burgesses who were before in the Guild (or their fathers), are the first category, and they number 217 citizens. For some reason, very few of the In-Burgesses at the Guild under notice had their sons enrolled along with themselves. Most of the Freemen must have had sons; so it would appear that the usage of entering sons with the fathers had not then become fixed. The list would have been much extended but for this omission. The absence will be observed in this Roll of a class of newly-admitted Burgesses paying fines. The Foreign Burgesses are a more numerous and influential body than formerly, numbering 122 persons; and they are headed by the noble family of Stanley, including Edward Stanley, third Earl of Derby; his son and heir, Henry, Lord Strange; and two younger sons, Thomas and Edward Stanley. The Hoghtons of the Tower, Burgesses of Preston from time immemorial, come next, with Sir Richard Hoghton at their head; and then follow Sir Thomas Langton, Baron of Newton and lord of Walton-in-le-Dale, and his sons; Sir Thomas Southworth, lord of Samlesbury, and his heir; Sir Alexander Osbaldeston; Sir Henry Farrington; John Talbot, Esq., and other well-known county gentry of the period. One lady occurs amongst these Foreign Burgesses,—Elizabeth Clayton, widow, late wife of John Clayton, Esq., who had been a Burgess. She was Mistress Elizabeth Clayton, third daughter of Sir Richard Langton, Knt., and wife of John Clayton, Esq., lord of Clayton-in-le-Woods, who had recently died without male issue. Mistress Clayton died before 1548.

The Guild Orders of 1542, which are entered upon the Guild Roll, are the first (of the preserved Rolls) which are written in the vernacular, and they are curious in their terms as well as interesting as exampling the rules of civic government in vogue in the middle of the Tudor period. Being not very lengthy, I have thought it worth while to print them here. Prefixed to the Orders or Articles are the Oaths taken by the Burgesses on enrolment.

From 1542 onward the Guild Merchant has been kept in Preston at regular fixed intervals of twenty years, without a single break; and on Sunday, August 30th, in the 4th year of Elizabeth (1562), the next Guild of our series commenced before Thomas Wall, Mayor of the Guild, three Stewards, and ten Aldermen of the Guild. The names of the Burgesses are still on the increase, and now cover one side of a Roll consisting of a large skin of parchment, pendant to which is the common seal of the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgesses, impressed on brown wax, but reduced to a mere fragment. The writing of the Roll is good and legible. The heading to the first list is simply, "Inhabiting Burgesses." Of these we count about 360 names. The "Foreign Burgesses," again, as in 1542, led by Edward Earl of Derby and his sons, are a goodly company of 193 persons, including noblemen, Knights, Esquires, and minor gentry,—nearly all members of landed families within the county. The third category is that of new In-Burgesses admitted by Court Roll and on payment of their specified fines, including a class distinguished as Stallingers. These Stallingers appear to have been men who were admitted in consideration of money to live in the town and set up stalls, yet they were not counted as Burgesses, but were always spoken of as "Strangers." At the end of the Roll are eleven names of Foreign Burgesses whose fathers were not in the Guild, but who were appointed on payment of fines by three of them, for themselves and their sons. The Guild Orders, written, as before, on the back of the Roll, are somewhat lengthy; they are chiefly a recital of the Orders of the preceding Guilds in 1397, 1415, 1459, and 1500; but several additional orders are recorded, one of which stipulates that "no Burgess shall be made nether by Court Roole nor otherwyse by the space of vij yeres next after the date of this present Gild." I infer that it was considered that Burgesses of each kind had of late been admitted rather too freely, and this order was intended to check the undue increase of the body of Freemen by the admission of outsiders. Nearly four years after the holding of the Guild Merchant in 1562 the town received, in August, 1566, a Charter from Queen Elizabeth which superseded all former Royal grants, and which, in the enlarged franchises it conferred, and the particular directions it gave with regard to civic appointments and all other matters connected with the government of the Borough, may be considered as the basis of the whole structure of laws, liberties, and customs of the Borough from the date of it down to the time of the promulgation of another important Charter granted by Charles II. in March, 1662–3.

Of the Guild Merchant of 1582, two copies of the Roll of Burgesses are preserved. One is written upon several large skins of parchment; the other upon paper, bound up as a folio volume; several leaves of the latter have got worn and broken. Both seem to be of the same date, and perhaps by the same scribe. The parchment is doubtless the official Roll, but at this Guild and subsequent ones it was thought safer to have a duplicate copy made. The initial "G" of the heading of the parchment Roll is a bold and elaborate piece of scroll-work, the projecting upper bend of the initial terminating in a dragon's head. The record is to the effect that this Guild Merchant was held at Preston on the Morrow of the Feast of the Decollation of St. John Baptist, in the 24th year of Elizabeth, and A.D. 1582; by George Walton, Gentleman, Mayor of the Guild; three Stewards, ten Aldermen, and Roger Gilibrand, Clerk of the Guild. The names of those who were in the precedent Guild, or whose fathers were, compose a list of about 500 names, additional to those of the Mayor, Stewards, and Aldermen, and the Clerk. The "Foreign Burgesses" have augmented to about 340 names. Henry, Earl of Derby, stands first on the Roll of Foreign Burgesses, and is followed by five other members of the Stanley family. The Hoghtons, Sherburnes, Hesketh's, Southworths, Langtons, Osbaldestons, Talbots, Fleetwoods, Farringtons, Standishes, Walmesleys, Rigbys, Andertons, Skillicornes, Cliftons, Bartons, Singletons, Haydocks, Whittinghams, Bannesters, and many more great Lancashire clans crowd the Roll. Then appear the names of twenty-one traders and their sons, who had been admitted interim by Court Roll; and after them about 100 persons admitted by payment as Stallingers. The Guild Orders entered upon the Roll are a lengthy set, which incorporate the major part of the Orders of former Guilds, but also present fresh rules and stipulations.

The Burgess Roll of the Guild of 1602 is written upon three skins of parchment. The Guild Merchant was held on the 30th August, 44th Elizabeth, A.D. 1602. Henry Catterall, Gent., was Mayor of the Guild; there were three Stewards and ten Aldermen of the Guild; and John Breres was Clerk. The In-Burgesses by birthright had not increased in number since 1582; but the "Foreign Burgesses" had greatly increased, and were stronger by over 200 than at the last Guild. They are now, for the first time, in a majority over the In-Burgesses by free-birth (about 560 to 537). Forty-seven townsmen had been admitted by copy of Court Roll and were now entered on the Guild Roll, together with about 250 Stallingers, on payment of considerable sums of money as "fines." Thus the Roll of 1602 contains a total of about 1,400 names. Of the many Guild Orders enacted on this occasion, and engrossed upon the Roll, I need mention but one, which provides that "no fforeign Burgess which shall after the time of the sealing up of this Guild come to inhabit within this town or the liberties of the same, nor any other fforeign Stranger or Stallenger which now doth inhabit and dwell within the said town, &c., and which shall or may at this said Guild be admitted to his or their ffreedom, who have not formerly been received as a Burgess within the said town, but have or shall make their habitation, by the space of seven years, shall be elected to be Mayor," or Bailiff. This order serves to indicate the difference in respect to civic status and privilege betwixt the In-Burgesses, the Foreign Burgesses, and the inhabitant Stallingers.

From 1622 onward the Roll of Burgesses and Orders of each Guild have been written and kept in the more convenient form of Manuscript Books, the older ones of small and the later ones of large folio size; the Rolls of two Guilds being generally bound up together. Thus the Rolls of the Guilds of 1622 and 1642 form one volume. Parchment or vellum continued to be the material upon which the Rolls were engrossed. The headings are more or less ornamental, and in 1662 the Rolls begin to have elaborately flourished and quaintly illuminated title-pages. Where duplicate copies of a Guild Roll have been made, I note differences here and there in the order of the names, and even some names omitted (perhaps by carelessness of the scribe) in one copy which appear in the other.

The Guild Merchant of the 20th James I. (A.D. 1622), was commenced on Monday, the 2nd September. William Preston, Gent., was Guild Mayor; and with him three Stewards and ten Aldermen constituted the Guild Court. George Hodgkinson was Clerk. The In-Burgesses, including sons, many of them under age, enrolled with the fathers, numbered about 750 persons; being some two hundred more than in 1602. The Foreign Burgesses are nearly 900 names; again considerably in excess of the townsmen who were freemen. It is not to be supposed that the Foreign Burgesses, for the most part, claimed any privileges of trading or other benefits of citizenship, for the majority of them were landed gentlemen, not engaged in any kind of commerce or craft. Obviously, it was as a mark of distinction only that the freedom of the Borough of Preston was sought, and, when once obtained, was handed down to their descendants, by the surrounding territorial magnates and the value set by the class upon the title of Foreign Guild Burgess may be gathered from the extensive muster of the Lancashire families of best estate at every Guild Merchant, in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries especially, for the purpose of renewing their freedoms. The inhabitants admitted by Court Roll, or as Stallingers, by payment of fines, and enrolled as such at the Guild of 1622, were 315 persons. There are no new Orders of the Guild that I need refer to here.

In the 18th Charles I., A.D. 1642, the next Guild Merchant was held on the 29th of August. Edmund Werden, Gent., was Mayor of the Guild; as formerly, there were three Stewards and ten Aldermen; and Christopher Banastre, Esq., was Clerk. Nearly 800 In-Burgesses were enrolled; and not far from 1000 Foreign Burgesses; whilst 156 townsmen were recorded as admitted on payment of fines by Court Roll. On the Roll of 1642, for the first time, the names of In-Burgesses and of Foreign Burgesses are each arranged in alphabetical order of Surnames, and thus any particular name or family can be turned up much more readily on this and succeeding Rolls, all of which are alphabetical, than on the preceding Rolls. But as printed in the present volume, our Index of Names equalises facility of reference to any of the Rolls.

The Roll of the Guild of 1662 forms a large book, for the Orders of that Guild were extraordinarily lengthy, and would by themselves, if printed in extenso, fill a thin volume. But, as I have previously observed, the subject-matter of these constantly varying and expanding Bye-Laws of the borough of Preston is outside the purpose of the Record Society in printing the Guild Rolls. This Guild was held soon after the Restoration of the Monarchy in 1660, and we may suppose that the men of Preston thought their corporate system required, like all things else in England, fundamental rehabilitation. Charles II. had intimated his gracious pleasure to grant them a new Charter, which should empower the changes they desired. So the Mayor and Council spent six weeks in daily deliberation, drawing up and enacting an all-comprehending Code of new Bye-Laws; and not until the last of them was disposed of did the Guild Merchant formally close. The Mayor of the Guild (which was opened on the 1st of September, 14th Charles II.), was James Hodgkinson, Gent. There were three Stewards, but only six Aldermen; and Edward Rigby, Esq., a well-known lawyer of the period ("in lege peritum"), was Clerk of the Guild. The Roll of In-Burgesses is headed by the names of those "Free and In-Burgesses who are of the Council in the foresaid Guild or Borough;" i.e., the Common Councilmen, eleven in number; and of the two Bailiffs. In all, the In-Burgesses of 1662 numbered about 1,100 persons; and the Foreign Burgesses were almost as many. The "names of those In-Burgesses and Foreign Burgesses admitted by Court Roll," whose fathers were not in the Guild and who made fine, numbered about 180 persons; and the sums they paid ranged upwards from £1 to £10.

The last Roll of Burgesses embraced in the present volume is that of the Guild Merchant of 1682. It was held on the 4th of September, in the 34th year of Charles II., Roger Sudell, Gent., Mayor of the Guild; three Stewards, ten Aldermen of the Guild; Edward Rigby, Esq., Serjeant-at-Law, again Guild Clerk. Eleven Councilmen of the Guild or Borough, and two Bailiffs. The Roll is still written in conventional Latin, and the title-page is highly embellished, the angles being filled with the arms of the borough, the figures "1682," and other devices. Roundly, the In-Burgesses in the first alphabetical category of the Roll are about 1,400 persons, and the Foreign Burgesses who come after about 1,200. Besides, there are about 180 In-Burgesses and Foreign Burgesses admitted by Court Roll and by purchase. The total number of names upon the last Roll included is, therefore, not far short of 2,800. These were the proportions to which the personnel of the Preston Guild Merchant had attained two hundred years since.

The reader will notice attached to a large proportion of the names upon the Roll the word "Jur'," a contraction for "Jurat," which indicates that the person whose name precedes had been sworn. The usage respecting the swearing of Burgesses seems to have been something like this:—When any person admitted as a Guild Burgess was present at the Guild, and was of age, he was sworn at the time of enrolment. Thus, for example, in the heading to the Roll of 1622 occur the words:—"Et qui quidem Jurat' fuerunt;" and in those of 1662 and 1682 the formula is:—"Qui quidem prescripti Jurati fuerunt." If a Burgess was sworn during the Guild, the fact was recorded by the addition of the word "Jurat" to his name then and there. But if a Burgess was absent, as a considerable number of Foreign Burgesses in particular always were, or if a son entered by his father was a minor at the time of the Guild, there could, of course, be no taking of the Burgess's Oath on the enrolment. Frequently such persons came in afterwards and were sworn; one who had been under age at the Guild would be likely to present himself soon after he had attained his majority; and then a new entry was made on the Guild Roll opposite the party's name; e.g.,—

"Will'us Cardwell, filius Thome, de Clifton, Jur' 19th October, 1649." Or the words added were sometimes entirely in English, as: "Laurentius Cowper filius eius" (of Lawrence), "Sworne 6th May, 1656."

Richard Kuerden, the local antiquary, writing shortly before the Guild of 1682, describes the process of renewal of freedom to have been commenced by the reception of the most honourable of the Foreign Burgesses. Immediately after the opening of the Guild by proclamation:—"Then is the chiefe Nobleman present desired to take the Oath of a Burgesse, and renewe his preveledge, the forme of which Oath is before rehearsed; which having repeated after the Senescall or Clerk of the Gild, and upon his honor accepting of the same, paying his fee of 7d. for himselfe and each of his male children, the rest of the noble persons doing the like. Then are the residue of Barronets, Knights, Esq'rs, and Gentlemen call'd upon to take their Oath of a Forreign Burgesse," &c.

The forms of the Burgesses' Oaths, as administered in the seventeenth century, are recorded by Kuerden, and, being somewhat instructive with respect to the several rights and duties of both classes of Burgesses, I quote them as follows :—

The Oath of a Free Burgesse, being a Nobleman, Knight, or Gentleman, not inhabiting within the Town of Preston :—"You shall sweare that you shall be good and true to our Soveraigne Lord King [Charles or James], and to the heirs and lawfull successors of our said Lord the King. The Guild Merchant, now holden, and which in time to come shall be holden, if you live thereunto, you shall maintain and uphold. You shall also, within this town, keep the King's peace in your person according to law. You shall know no gathering, conventicle or conspiracy, made within this Town, against the King's peace, but you shall warne the Mayor or other Officer thereof, and lett it to your power. All these points and articles you shall well and truly keepe, according to the lawes and customes of the Realm, and of this Town, to your power. So help you God, and by the contents of this Book." If a Peer of the realm, he answers, upon his honour, to do it; then the Senescall adds Jurat to his name enrolled.

The Oath of a Free Burgesse not inhabiting within the Burrough.—"You shall sweare, that you shall bee good and true to our Soveraigne Lord K. J., and to the heirs and lawfull successors of our said Lord the King. The Guild Merchant, now holden, and which in time to come shall be holden, if you live thereunto, you shall maintain and uphold. Obeisant and obedient you shall be to the Mayor of this Town, concerning the francheses and customes thereof, and the same you shall maintain to your best endeavour, and this town keep harmles in that you is. When you do or shall inhabit within this Town, you shall be contributory to all manner of charges within this Town, as Sumons, Watches, Contributions, Tacks, Tallages, Lott and Scott, and all other charges, bearing your part as Freeman ought to do. And all and every the Orders and Ordinances made and confirmed at this present Guild Merchant, which are not contradictory to the lawes of this Kingdom, you shall, as far as in you lyeth, maintain and keep. You shall also, within this town, keep the King's peace in your own person according to the law. You shall color noe foreiners' Goods, under or in your own name, whereby the King or this Town might or may lose their Customes or advantages. You shall know no Foreiner to buy or sell any Merchandize with any other Foreiner within this Town or the francheses thereof, except at the Faire Times, but you shall warn the Mayor or Bayliffes thereof. You shall knowe no gatherings, conventicles, or conspiracys, made within this Town, against the King's peace, but you shall warn the Mayor or other Officer thereof, and lett it to your power. All these points and articles you shall well and truly keep, according to the lawes and customes of the Realm and of this Town, to your power. So help you God, and by the contents of this Book."

The Oath taken by "a Free Burgesse inhabiting within the Burrough" is almost word for word the same as the second of the above forms of oath, taken by a Free Burgess (being neither nobleman, knight, or gentleman) not inhabiting within the borough; for the latter persons might come to live within the town, and the inhabiting Burgess might remove out of the borough, and so the clause respecting duties laid upon a Burgess whilst inhabiting within the Borough was applicable to both.

Respecting the numerous Companies into which the inhabitant Burgesses engaged in the different trades or handicrafts practised in the town formed themselves, as in the City of London and other chartered cities and towns, I can only mention here that the Preston Companies in the beginning of the last century embraced the trades or crafts of Mercers, Drapers, Grocers, Haberdashers, Salters, Blacksmiths, Goldsmiths, Watchmakers, Clockmakers, Tyrers, Pewterers, Painters, Cutlers, Whitesmiths, Gunsmiths, Locksmiths, Spurriers, Plumbers, Glaziers and Hardware-Men, Skinners, Glovers, Taylors, Websters, Shearmen, Hosiers, Dyers, Tanners, Saddlers, Carpenters, Coopers, Joyners, and Cordwainers. Many of these trades had existed in the borough from time immemorial. Several crafts, however, were in some instances united in one Company, as, for instance, the Drapers, Mercers, Grocers, Salters, Ironmongers, and Haberdashers, combined in one Company or fraternity by Order of the Council of the Borough in 1628.

The gratuitous freedoms conferred in limited number at each Guild celebration were either in the nature of honorary presentations to personages of rank and note who attended the Guild, or of rewards in acknowledgment of useful service done by the recipient to the town during the Guild or previously, or undertaken to be performed by him thereafter. Occasionally, too, retainers or servants of noblemen and other influential visitors who themselves were Guild Burgesses were admitted at the solicitation of their masters, as a mark of reverence on the part of the Guild Mayor and Stewards. Of Burgesses made gratis in consideration of service done or to be done such entries as these occur:—

"Radulphus Radcliffe Slaiter admitted a Burgesse for and upon condic'on that hee shall att all tymes needfull mosse and dresse the Roofe of the hall duringe his lyffe haveinge Slaite mosse lyme and heare [hair] found hyme, upon the costs and chardges of hymselffe," &c.

"Thomas Woodrooff admitted a Burgesse of this Towne for Ringinge the daie Bell and Cou'lefewe for the Somer season duringe his liffe, and for makeing all the Seates in the Church for the townesmen both againste the Sabaoth daies and ffestivall daies sweete and cleane eu'ie of the said daies, for the said termes."

"John Houghton of the Lea yoman is admitted a Burgess of this towne of Prestonn in respecte of such Service as hee hath alreadie done this guyld and for bakinge of Breade and brueinge of Beare att all such Guyldes as shall happen to be kepte within the saide Towne of Prestonn duringe his lyffe, as also att all such ffeastes as the Maior of the said Towne shall att anie tyme Keepe duringe the lyffe of the said John."

The admission of Strangers of rank and quality was formulated in this wise:—

6th Aug., 5th Charles I. (1630). "Thomas Peryon of Actowne in the Countye of Midlesex Knighte att the instance and request of himselfe and Sir Gilb'ti Houghton Knight was admitted gratis a ffree Burgesse of the Burrough of Preston by John Hynde gent Maior Will'm Preston Thomas Banister Will'm Lemon gen' Aldermen of the said Towne & Edmund Worden."

Servants of noblemen or gentlemen admitted out of deference to their Masters are usually enfranchised for themselves only, and not for their sons and descendants, so as the favour would cease with the recipient's life, thus:—

"Jeoffrey Mather servien' Henr' ffleetewood, gen' Jur' p' seip'o tantum"

"Rogerus fford servus Thome Tildesley Ar' p' seip'o tantum"

Apprentices of Freemen were admitted on stipulations of which the following entry is an example:—

"Rob'tus Strickland apprentice with William Bragger is admitted a Burgesse for the some of xx^{s} in hand and xx^{s} more to bee paid within one yeare next after hee sette upp for himselfe."

The form of enrolment of the head of a family who was a Burgess, his sons then living, and any of his brothers who were Burgesses with their sons, is illustrated by the following example:—

Ricardus Banaster de Banaster-bridge in Walton-in-le-Dale
    Thomas Banaster filius ejus
    Ricardus Banaster filius ejus
    Gulielmus Banaster frater ejus
    Jacobus Banaster frater ejus
Georgius Banaster frater Ricardi Banaster senior'
    Thomas Banaster filius ejus

Here there are representatives of three generations of the elder line of the Banasters of Banaster Bridge in Walton-in-le-Dale, and of two generations of a younger branch, all living and entered as foreign burgesses at the Guild of 1642. The pronoun "ejus" (of him) always refers in these Rolls to the person named just before; so when the phrase "filius ejus" occurs in two lines together, the second "filius" was son of him named next preceding, and grandson of him who was entered first on the record. Richard Banaster the elder had in 1642 one son, Thomas, and the latter had three sons born before that date, Richard, William, and James. But George Banaster, brother of Richard the elder, was also a Burgess, and he is enrolled next along with one son, Thomas. Usually, the brother of the first member of a family, coming after a number of sons of the latter, described as "brother" of each other in succession, is distinguished by the word "predictus" (aforesaid), ex. gr., "Thomas Barton frater predicti Christoferi senior'." But in the above instance of George Banaster the word "senior" after his brother Richard's name sufficed to indicate which generation George belonged to. In the next example, which records three generations of the Butlers of Rawcliffe at the Guild of 1642, the head of the house is enrolled first; next comes his son and heir, and after him seven other brothers of the eldest son; then follow the names of seven sons of the aforesaid eldest son, thus:—

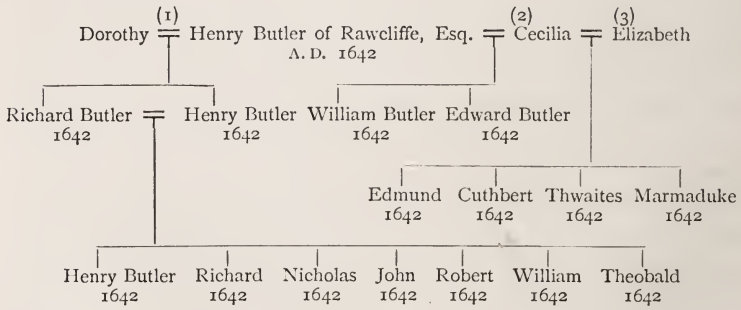
Henricus Butler de Rawcliffe Armiger

Ricardus Butler filius ejus	Henricus Butler frater ejus
Gulielmus Butler frater ejus	Edwardus Butler frater ejus
Edmundus Butler frater ejus	Cuthbertus Butler frater ejus
Thwaites Butler frater ejus	Marmaduke Butler frater ejus

Henricus Butler filius predicti Ricardi

Ricardus Butler frater ejus	Nicholaus Butler frater ejus
Johannes Butler frater ejus	Robertus Butler frater ejus
Gulielmus Butler frater ejus	Theobald Butler frater ejus

This latter record of the Butlers at the Guild of 1642, arranged in pedigree form, would be as under, and this statement of the three descents will be found to be in agreement with the pedigree in Sir William Dugdale's Visitation of Lancashire, 1664–5, excepting that two of the sons of Henry Butler, Esq., named above, viz., Edmund and Cuthbert, are left out by Dugdale, being probably dead some time before 1664; whilst four younger sons, after Marmaduke, and born certainly after 1642, are named by the Herald, viz., Henry, Christopher, Alexander, and James. Also, Henry Butler, first son of Richard, is unnamed by Dugdale, being dead before 1664:—



I append a sample pedigree of the family of Blundell of Preston, showing six generations, constructed entirely from the Guild Roll entries from A.D. 1542 to 1662, to exemplify the extent to which these Rolls may be made use of, in conjunction with title deeds, wills, parish registers, inquisitions, &c., in genealogical work.

The full Index of Names which I have made out will show that the Guild Rolls printed in this volume record representatives and descents of the following principal families or clans seated in Preston, in the County of Lancaster, and elsewhere, besides those of a large number of inferior local families. In this selected List there are about 430 separate surnames, representing at least Five Hundred distinct families.

Abbott, Abraham, Addison, Ainsworth, Alston, Ambrose, Ancram (Earls of), Anderton, Andrews, Arkwright, Armetriding, Arrowsmith, Askew, Assheton, Astley, Atherton, Atkinson, Audland, Aynscough, Balderston, Balshawe, Bamber, Bancroft, Bankes, Banastre (or Bannester), Barker, Barkley, Barnes, Barton, Bateson, Bayley, Becconsall, Beesley, Benson, Berwick, Bickerstaff, Billesborrowe, Birchall, Birch, Birches, Birley, Birtwistle, Blackburne, Blackhurst, Blackledge, Blacowe (or Blakey), Blundell, Boardman, Bold, Bolton,

Although these Guild Rolls have not been published before, the printing of them has more than once been projected. A prospectus issued by Henry Oakey, Printer and Bookseller, of Preston, and dated January 11th, 1855, announces as "preparing for publication, with the sanction of his Worship the Mayor, Aldermen, and Councillors, the Preston Guild Rolls, illustrated biographically," &c. The writer sets forth that "the old study of Family History has of late been extensively resumed, and it has taken a character which promises excellent results"; that these Guild Rolls "furnish clusters of such families of all degrees"; "they have points of universal attraction, inasmuch as they belong far less exclusively to particular classes of men than any other public documents." "These Guild Rolls are eloquent witnesses to the spirit of union between all classes." "In the Roll of 1762, the Earl of Derby is found in the same solemn procession of the Guild of that year with John Lever, an inmate of the Workhouse." He closes by saying that "to bring the foregoing topics from the Preston Guild Rolls, it is proposed to publish them faithfully and completely. If this be not soon done, the casualties of fire and other mischances may at any time destroy them, and no copy is at present known to exist." "The work not being likely to be so immediately and extensively attractive as to meet its expenses by the ordinary way of sale, it is proposed to publish it by subscription. As soon as 500 copies are ordered it will be begun to be printed, and no more will be published than are subscribed for. The work will be complete in one 4to volume, price One Guinea, including the Plates." This proposal to print was never carried out, probably because the requisite number of subscribers could not be had; and the attempt to include the whole of the Rolls, from 1397 to 1842, containing more than 40,000 entries, properly indexed, in a single volume, not to speak of the biographic and other illustrations promised, and the pictorial embellishments, must, I fear, have ended in failure. Some twenty-five years since, it was notified in the Preston newspapers that R. Assheton Cross, Esq., then M.P. for Preston (1857 to 1862), had it in contemplation to edit the Guild Rolls for publication. But the important position in Parliament subsequently taken by Mr. Cross (now Sir Richard Assheton Cross, Knt., M.P., late Home Secretary), we may imagine, forbade the fulfilment of the design.

I do not know if there be anything else in the Guild Rolls now printed which requires explanation or comment. The information they supply does but bring us towards the close of the seventeenth century. The Rolls of the five Guilds held in the eighteenth century (in 1702, 1722, 1742, 1762, and 1782) contain a mass of similar materials for genealogical illustration, and those five Rolls, if printed, would fill another volume fully equal in bulk to this. I do not consider that the printing of the Rolls of the Guilds of the present century would be of sufficient service to justify the expense, or would, in fact, be exactly within the scope of the Record Society. Should the Members of the Society find the present instalment of the Preston Guild Records acceptable, and wish for a second, I shall be ready to copy the Rolls which follow, from 1702 to 1782, and to prepare them for the Press as another volume of the Society's series, in the course of two or three years, on the intimation of the Council that such is their desire. Meanwhile, I leave this my first editorial work for the Society to its judgment, and respectfully plead for leniency towards whatever defects may be descried in it.

 The Editor fears that a number of undetected errors may have slipped into the text, which the reader who observes any of them may pardon in consideration of the obscurities and orthographical peculiarities of the manuscript originals (the earlier Rolls more particularly). He would, however, point out that various manifest incongruities, such as the intermixture of English words with the Latin in many entries, are not his mistakes, but are the vagaries of the Clerks who wrote out the Rolls, which have been copied as nearly as transcriber and printer were capable of doing.

INDEX OF NAMES.

[The various spellings of what appears to be the same surname are placed together, the more modern and familiar form first, and the rest betwixt parentheses. The English form of the Christian name is substituted in this Index for the Latin of the text; and so with descriptive appendages to names where these occur.]
